Embracing the Gifts of Gay Priests & Brothers

This weekend program is designed to bring together gay priests and brothers with the leaders of men's religious communities, vocation directors, and formation personnel.

We hope to encourage dialogue that will help each group understand one another better and promote greater communication and education within communities and dioceses.

The retreat will focus on the gifts that gay men bring to the priesthood and religious life, the challenges and gifts that they experience when integrating their vocation with their sexuality, and different ways that gay and heterosexual priests & brothers can develop better understanding of each other.

The retreat will offer presentations by the facilitator, small group discussions, prayer time, and learning from one another's personal experiences.

About the Presenter

Fr. Fred Daley is the pastor of All Saints Church, Syracuse, New York. He graduated from Wadhams Hall Seminary, Ogdensburg, New York, and was ordained for the Syracuse Diocese in 1974. His pastoral experience includes serving as regional vicar, director of vocations and seminarians, development of interfaith outreach ministries for the poor, inner city ministry, significant travels to the developing world, and efforts for church reform. One of the nation's few openly gay priests, Fred led his parish to develop for the first shrine in memory of another openly gay priest who died in the September 11th attacks: Fr. Mychal Judge, OFM.

Cancellation Policy: Prior to April 15th, all but $25 is refundable. No refunds after April 15th.
